

On the occasion of #WorldEarthDay, the faculty members and students of the Department of Botany, Madhabdev University, expressed their commitment to environmental awareness and the protection of our planet.
Emphasizing the motivating message...

“We are the first generation to feel the impact of climate change and the last generation that can do something about it”.

Also the Professors highlighted the vital role of young minds in safeguarding the Earth through the simple yet powerful principle of the 3R- Reduce, Reuse, and Recycle.
